Debbie had a hard early life. I tried to be a real friend to her. My older half-sister, Linda Sapp, was living in the same apartment building as she was, and, informed me of her passing. I hope that she and, now, the rest of her family have found peace.

God cares for the brokenhearted; Psalm 34:18 assures us that he is close to them. Psalm 147:3 says He heals the brokenhearted; He binds up their wounds. God strengthens us by giving us the power beyond what is normal to make it through each passing day. Nahum 1:7; God is a stronghold in the day of distress. He is mindful of [takes care of] those seeking refuge in him. Please accept my sincere condolences. Always remember God loves you and he cares for you! (Psalm 36:7; 2 Corinthians 13:4)

Debbie was my cousin. When we were young she actually spent some time living with my parents. She always had a big smile. Our distance most of our lives has kept us from being close but I remember well as a young girl at Christmas time at our Grandpa & Grandma Creagans. Always a huge dimpled smile is what I remember most. RIP Cousin Debbie.
