Lisa and I were close growing up. We used to ride horses all the time, and she taught me how to train my horse for horse shows. My most fond memories of her is when I would be allowed to spend the night with her on Sundays. What a treat! Sometimes she would braid my hair. I got to stay up late with my cousin and watch Star Trek, then the Twilight Zone if I could stay awake! We didn't get to spend much time together as adults, but she's always had a very special place in my heart.
